GIVING DAY OCT. 21

LETTER FROM THE CAPTAINS

Dear Columbia Sailing Community,

Over the two years of our presidency, we have watched this club grow tremendously. When we were first elected the team was not able to practice, had no coach, and was unable to compete in regattas. However, since then we have watched this club rebound and thrive. Thanks to a crucial move to Larchmont Yacht Club we have an excellent head coach in Loughlen Rickard, access to a new fleet of 420s, and we are attracting talented sailors from across Columbia and the country.

This team has won multiple regattas, has celebrated an onslaught of race wins, and has worked its way up to compete with the top teams in the country. We are eager to continue our successes and to keep growing as a team, and we remain firm in our commitment to sharing the love of sailing with our community.

Our alumni and parents of sailors are vital to our success and longevity. We have been so grateful to our generous supporters for their time, assistance, and donations. You are the reason the team is where it stands today, and serve as examples of the culture we aim to promote. Columbia Sailing is not just a club you join while in university. It is a lifelong community that supports one another.

This Giving Day, on October 21, we encourage you to reflect on your experience with Columbia Sailing and the sport you love. Your donations shape the experiences of the almost 200 sailors currently in our club, and the many more who will follow them. Financial support will allow us to expand the regatta experience to more sailors as well as allow us to continue climbing the highest ranks of sailing.

Columbia Sailing is back on the map, and we are here to stay! ROAR LIONS ROAR!

Sincerely,
Alexander Vincenti

SEASON UPDATE

This season we have 13 regattas lined up; the most events in a fall season since 2012! We kicked it off with a great start getting 3rd, 2nd, and 1st, as well as competed in the Women's Atlantic Coast Championship for the first time in over 10 years!

We've traveled along the east coast from Charleston to Boston to compete against the nation's top teams and we still have our best events to come! Next weekend we will be competing at The Grant, and lastly the War Memorial if we qualify, and MAISA Women's Fall Championship. Stay tuned for results!
